

Worksheet 1: Choosing research method

Decide what method would be best to obtain answers to the following research questions: quantitative or qualitative, and why? You may also consider if there is a way to combine quantitative and qualitative methods to answer some questions.

	Research question	Quantitative or qualitative method?	Why?
1.	How do graduate students describe their decision to return to university after maternity leave?
2.	What was the scale of household bankruptcy in Poland in 2015–2022?
3.	How do people who served a sentence in prison describe this experience?
4.	How to determine the impact and significance of public aid on the creation of new jobs and new investments by enterprises, based on the example of the town of Kolno?
5.	How does the experience of domestic violence affect contacts between children in peer groups?
6.	How often do primary school principals encounter the problem of difficulties in establishing contacts with students' parents?		